How Diamonds are Cut.

Chambers' Journal has a readable article upon the subject of "Diamond Cutting." It is descriptive of a visit to the celebrated mill of Coster, at Amsterdam. It would appear that the essential operations of the art are three. First, the rough stone is cleansed of defective parts, and the flaws are dexterously split off. It seems, according to the best lapidaries, that there are few diamonds without cavities or other flaws; indeed, the diamond, as a rule, is more foul than any other stone used in jewelry. The second operation is the cutting, which confers on the stone the form, and in a rough way, the number of faces which it ought to have. Lastly, there is the polishing, which gives to these faces their clearness and brilliancy. In all these operations, the diamond must be firmly set in a tool, and successively undergo the file and scissors. The splitter, when he finds a flaw commences his work by inserting the diamond into a fusible cement, which hardens extremely as soon as it is cold, and supports the stone with the requisite solidity. This cement is lodged in a kind of cup, at the extremity of a solid handle, which the workman holds in his hands; he then takes in his other hand a second like instrument, furnished with a diamond recently cut, the edge of which projects sharply outside. Supporting the two tools on the border of a box, placed before him on the table, he communicates to them a saw-saw motion, and by rubbing on one of the stones the sharp edge of the other, he soon makes a slight cut, which suffices him to introduce a sharp-edge blade, which he strikes lightly, in order to separate the two pieces. Some stones, I was told by the workmen, could not be split in the usual way, in consequence of the risk of destroying them by the operation. These are sawn with a finely tempered bow-saw moistened with olive oil, and sprinkled over with diamond dust. The splitter or diamond trimmer is much assisted by the natural formation of the stone, which has its line of cleavage well defined.

CUTTING.

The cleaner, or cutter, has similar instruments to those of the splitter. After having inserted, in his pair of tools, two diamonds of bulk nearly equal, he uses the one for working a face on the other by rubbing with force. When he has thus finished a face on each of the stones, he softens the cement by slightly heating it on a gas lamp, and turning the gem, he commences the next face, and so goes on. Like the splitter, he supports the stone on a little rectangular box, into which the powder falls, which is afterward used in the polishing. The cutter only forms about one-half of the required faces on any given stone, leaving it to his successor, the polisher, to form the remainder. The cutter only rough-hews the gem; the polisher is the artist who gives it its final shape and lustre.

This operation requires a certain muscular effort, and the cutter requires to protect his hands by thick gloves of skin. The box over which the splitter works is provided with a double bottom, the first of which is pierced with holes like a sieve; the powder from the diamond resulting from the rubbing falls into the second compartment, and the large fragments rest on the seive; where they can easily be collected, in order to be cut in their turn. The fragments obtained in cutting large stones, are sometimes of great value. The powder, or diamond dust, is always burned before being used, in order to cleanse it from oil or any particles of solder which is necessary to fix the stone. When a cutter or polisher examines his stone, by placing it on his tongue, he first carefully dusts the gem with a camel hair brush, in order to collect the fine powder which is of such value in cutting and polishing.

THE FINISH.

After coming out of the hands of the cleaner, the diamond has the form and perhaps a third of the number of faces which it ought to have, but its surface is so hard and irregular that it requires the polishing to give it polish and brightness. The wheel on which the polishing is accomplished is a turn-table of iron, technically called "a schyff," solidly fixed in the middle of a table, and is so arranged as to be of extremely rapid rotation (from two to three thousand revolutions per minute.) The metal turn-table receives the diamond powder and reduces it to an impalpable state; it is constantly moist and with olive oil, which softens the friction and prevents the powder from being projected outside by the centrifugal force. The diamond which is to be polished is set no more in the fusible cement, but in an alloy of lead and tin, to which is given the form of a round cone, of which the stone occupies the summit. The whole is lodged in a spherical cup, which covers one-half, and is terminated by a straight stem. This stem is seized between the claws of a pincers, and the face of the diamond to be polished is held down with weights of lead, for maintaining the apparatus in a proper position and augmenting the adherence and friction. The weights vary considerably, running from two to thirty pounds, according as the faces required is to be small or large. The operation either for small or large stones is much the same; the worker is generally able to conduct the polishing of several stones at the same time. The operation of polishing usually takes very long and requires the exercise of extreme patience; the cutting of certain large diamonds continues for many months.

SKILL OF WORKMEN.

The art requires that the cutter should have extraordinary skill for working the stones, of which the smallest often do not reach to the size of a pin-head. Nothing equals in this respect the skillfulness of the workers of Holland; and one is quite confounded when one sees stones of such small dimensions cut into twenty-four faces perfectly equal and regular. Some of the stones operated upon at Coster's are so small that it takes hundreds of them to weigh a carat! This is not, however, all the diamond-cutter has to surmount, it is the cleaner who has to make choice of the form to be given to each particular stone. It is he who must decide, after a minute's examination, how each particular diamond ought to be cut, whether brilliant or rose; he determines the choice by an endeavor to lose as little matter as possible. But this is not all. It is necessary that he should recognize at the first glance in what way it is convenient to attack the stone, which is not an easy matter, for if his measures have not been well taken, it may perhaps occur that twenty-three faces have already been cut on an imperfect stone; and so it is found impossible to continue. The cutters and polishers are often thrown out by finding unexpected flaws in the stone, as they proceed in the work. The color, too, often changes, so that sometimes it is almost impossible to tell how a diamond may turn out; and, as in the case of the Koh-i-noor, one portion of the stone may prove to be a great deal harder than another part; and if, while cutting, the diamond be allowed to remain too long on the schyff before being taken off to cool, it might melt the lead into which it is set, and so, by changing its positions, do very serious injury to the stone.

In cutting the Koh-i-noor, it was necessary at times to increase the revolutions of the schyff to three thousand per minute, in consequence of the extraordinary hardness of some portions of this most valuable gem. It is not always easy to say how much of a stone must be sacrificed in the cutting. The Star of the South, which was cut by Monsieur Coster, weighed in the rough state in which it was found 254½ carats; when finished, the weight was a little under a half of that weight. The Koh-i-noor lost eighty carats in the recutting. It now weighs less than the Star of the South by about twenty carats. Many of the bits split off the larger gems in the process of cutting and polishing form admirable stones for rings, pins, etc. It is wonderful how small some of the diamonds are that go through Coster's mill, and still more wonderful that they can be cut at all, far less have a score of faces put upon them. Some of them, I am told, occasionally fall in love with a fine stone, and linger over it in the cutting and polishing with positive devotion. The masters find it politic to interrupt these men in their labor by a change of work. If a man fall in love with such a fine gem as the Star of the South, he is set to work at some dealer's stock of brilliants, and allowed to go on with them for a time. The best workmen earn large wages, considerable gratuities being sometimes given by Monsieur Coster for the cutting of particular stones. The demand for precious stones of all kinds and particularly diamonds, has greatly increased during late years, and coupled with the growing scarcity of the gem—most of the present mines being comparatively unproductive—has of course tended to raise the price of these valuable adamantine bits of carbon, so that now they can be purchased only by very wealthy people.—New York Evening Mail.

Management of the Butter Dairy.

I notice a series of questions from one of your readers upon dairy matters, with a request that those so disposed would forward answers to them.

PASTURES AND HAY.

In answering his first question, I would say that, as a pasture for the production of butter, I would greatly prefer a natural growth. Good clover pasture will increase the amount of milk, but if cows produce a given amount of butter from natural pastures, they will, when turned on to clover, decrease the amount of butter at least one-fourth, while the amount of milk would be materially increased. I would unhesitatingly give the preference to good natural grass as a butter-producer.

For hay, I would still give the preference to natural grass; but the difference is not nearly so great, for I hold that clover hay, nicely kept, and not too much dried, will make as much butter as any other kind I can get.

DAIRY ROOMS AND TEMPERATURE.

For keeping milk, I would give the preference to a good spring-house in summer, and a good cellar or vault in winter; the grand object is to keep the milk, as nearly as possible, at an even temperature the year round.

With regard to the proper temperature of the spring-house, or vault, I would say [illegible] one object is to make all the cream rise in the [illegible] possible time, and to do this, we must keep the milk at a regular temperature. Several experiments have been made to ascertain the proper temperature; as a rule it has been found that milk at a temperature of 50° will raise all the cream in thirty-six hours; at a temperature of 55° it requires but twenty-four hours; at a temperature of 65° it requires but twenty hours, while at one of 77°, it needs but twelve hours.

In another experiment, the milk was kept at a temperature of from 34° to 37°; no cream of any account was thrown up in three weeks.

This regular temperature is the mainspring of success in the butter dairy, and can be best attained by a well constructed vault, [illegible] the summer, it may also be attained by a spring-house, which has its own attendant advantages, such as exemption from carrying milk up and down stairs, etc.

With regard to the state of the milk at the time of churning, I prefer that the milk should not become thick all through, but [illegible] to have it in that stage in which a small portion at the bottom and sides of the pan is thick, showing that the thickening process has commenced. If allowed to stand until the milk is thick all through, there is great danger of injuring the [illegible] of the butter. At a temperature of [illegible] 70° it will be best to skim every day, or at most, every thirty-six hours. If skimmed in twenty four [illegible] milking, and again in twelve hours [illegible] the two skimmings separate, the last [illegible] will make a very inferior sample of butter.

DEPTH OF MILK IN PANS.

To put the milk more than [illegible] inches deep in the pans entails a loss in the [illegible] of [illegible]; the cream is so near of the [illegible] specific gravity as the milk that it cannot rise through a very great depth. Again, in a very large body of milk, it requires a longer time for it to lose its animal heat, which must all be [illegible] before the cream begins to rise. If any one will take the trouble to set a shallow pan, with not more than three inches of milk, away with a [illegible] of the same kind, he will find that the [illegible] will raise nearly, if not quite, as [illegible] at.

TEMPERATURE OF CREAM.

Careful experiments have [illegible] that while the cream should never be lower than 55°, it should never be higher than 55° for the [illegible] tion of churning will raise it [illegible] five to ten degrees.

In a long series of [illegible] in an English dairy, the best temperature was found to be 53° when the cream goes into the churn.

Far too many keep the milk and cream at the same temperature. Either the cream or the milk will suffer.

HOW LONG TO CHURN.

But is not our friend mistaken in wishing to obtain his butter in the [illegible] My experience is, that if [illegible] soon, it is at the [illegible] of the [illegible] quantity, too; I would [illegible] than less, and [illegible] better butter; by raising the [illegible] of the cream, the butter may be [illegible] but will not make so good an article.

SALTING BUTTER.

The quantity of salt needed to [illegible] the butter will vary from one pound of salt to [illegible] of butter, to the same amount for [illegible] pounds.

The object is to have the water and [illegible] which remain in the butter thoroughly saturated with salt, and of course the more the [illegible] is worked and freed from the butter [illegible] the less salt will be required to salt it enough for [illegible] vation; but, as enough salt to keep it will not usually make it salt enough for the [illegible] of many customers, we must add, [illegible] one pound to twenty-four of butter will not generally be too much.

MILK OR CREAM PER [illegible] OF BUTTER.

From nine to eleven quarts of milk should make two of cream, which in turn [illegible] make one pound of butter, or by weight, eighteen to twenty pounds of milk should make four of cream which should make one of butter.

I give these data from a dairy of common [illegible] and it will, of course, vary with other [illegible] and herds; it will not apply to Alderneys, for the proportion of cream and butter to the milk is [illegible]

Two quarts of cream are a fair average for one pound of butter, though many cows will furnish an article requiring much less than two, one pound.—Winchester Republican.

BUTLER'S FINANCIAL SOPHISTRY EX[illegible].—The Milwaukee Sentinel (Republican), [illegible] to General Butler's argument for paying the national debt in greenbacks, shows up its [illegible] absurdity by an apt illustration, thus:

We will suppose that General Butler holds a note against Charles Sumner for $1,000, payable in two to five years, at the option of the maker, with interest payable semi-annually. Two years have expired and Sumner goes to General Butler and says, "General, I am tired of paying interest on that note and wish to pay it." General Butler replies, "Very well, you have a right to take it up." Sumner offers him his own note for the amount without interest. The General says to Sumner, "I have your promise to pay already. If you wish to take up the note pay me the money." Sumner replies, "General, I did indeed promise to pay you so many dollars, but you know that one promise may always be redeemed by another of the same kind, unless it is otherwise expressly provided in the promise." General Butler replies, "But this is not even a promise of the same kind; it promises no interest." Sumner, with his accustomed good nature, replies, "Very true; but, you should understand that as the second promise always cancels the debt, I am no longer bound to pay interest."

TREELESS.—Among our newly acquired possessions, the Aleutian Islands, there is not a tree or the semblance of one. These islands rise almost precipitously from the ocean, six and seven thousand feet high. The low lands and mountains are covered with moss, from which the animals gather food and the inhabitants fuel. This moss or sphagnum is one of the main features of Alaska. It is a thick moss, seldom less than a foot, and sometimes three feet deep, and covers the whole face of the country from the middle of Vancouver Island to the end of the Aleutian Islands. It forms a soft cushion into which the traveler sinks at least to his boot-tops at every step. In this moist climate the sphagnum is always soaking wet. It appears to be very similar to the material from which the peat beds in the temperate zones are formed.

Among the multitude of works, great and small, bearing upon refractory King Theodore, is a volume in the press, written by Henry Dufton, and entitled, A Narrative of a Journey to Abyssinia, with an Appendix and a Comparison of the Practicable Routes for a March upon Debra Tabra.

The entire correspondence relating to the attempted foundation of the Mexican empire and its fall, is announced to be published by Duncker and Hamblot, at Leipsig, who also announce three volumes of the Emperor Maximilian's memoirs and essays.

TEMPERANCE AND WINE-GROWING. C. L. Brace, in a recent letter to the New York [illegible], discourses as follows on the temperance [illegible] in California:

"In regard to the great question of [illegible] in this State, it seems to me unwise for the community to throw it into a struggle with an important horticultural interest as [illegible]. California is as certain to be a vast [illegible] growing and wine-making State as [illegible]. All the conditions of its soil and climate [illegible] this as one of the most natural and [illegible] of production of the State. No moral [illegible] could sensibly affect it. Would not temperance in a [illegible] such as California, be best promoted by the vine growers to make a light [illegible] discouraging the use of brandy, and [illegible] To expect total abstinence in a [illegible] wine is thirty-five cents a gallon, [illegible] as absurd as to institute it at [illegible] Johannisburg. The Impending Contest.

It is important that every Union voter in the State should read the address of the Union State Central Committee, and that immediate and general action should be taken in accordance with its [illegible] tions. This duty cannot be too earnestly [illegible] upon the attention of every member of the party. The coming elections in this State will be [illegible] contested; there is no need of any attempt [illegible] this fact. Four or five years ago the [illegible] party appeared to have a majority in the [illegible] of over two thousand votes; but the truth is, its real majority was never more than half so [illegible] were great numbers of Democrats who did not vote in the State elections of 1862 and 1864, and to this fact our large majorities on [illegible] due. Up to 1864, the actual [illegible] majority in the State might have reached [illegible] not more. Prior to the [illegible] of 1866, large numbers of Democrats, [illegible] had established their standing in [illegible] fighting in the rebel armies, came into [illegible] and with the help of these auxiliaries the [illegible] of the party was so greatly [illegible] barely admitted by [illegible] though the gain to Union [illegible] larger than it had ever been be[illegible] the war [illegible] and the inundation of [illegible] to the [illegible] of the State have been in our [illegible] considerable number of the Confed[illegible] Democratic ticket in Oregon [illegible] to have left the State since [illegible] these facts because it is im[illegible] the relative strength of parties in the [illegible] in mind. If a proper effort [illegible] whole vote is got out, we shall [illegible] a larger majority [illegible] this result [illegible] and effort at work are [illegible] have been no change [illegible] Union to the Democratic party worth [illegible] visible to find a [illegible] anywhere, who, having adhered to the Union [illegible] through the war, has since [illegible] at the [illegible] in the approaching contest [illegible] would be at [illegible] We do not doubt our ability to [illegible] we must "do it" and gain a victory. If [illegible] who are ready to yield to discour[illegible] of the result in other States, [illegible] that it was said with truth by one [illegible] skilled in human nature that

Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win,

[illegible] of the State Central [illegible] believe, he said [illegible] that a full [illegible] but as this, [illegible] totally impossible, [illegible] to take [illegible] which they [illegible] the [illegible] which will [illegible] when it is [illegible] will be [illegible]. But in the [illegible] in every precinct go to [illegible]. Let us [illegible] it and activity into the [illegible]

[illegible] says that the meeting of the [illegible] of the Coos Bay Wagon Road [illegible] held at that place on the 28th ult. [illegible] organ[illegible] Judge S. S. Mann [illegible] of Coos county, and Hon. [illegible] Esq. and S. F. [illegible] to the 25th of January.

[illegible] Thos. M. Gale, employed [illegible] in Eugene City, was poisoned [illegible] candy. For a time his life [illegible] was sup[illegible]. The candy was procured [illegible] that its poi[illegible] produced by the coloring [illegible] to it by the [illegible]. The effect of the [illegible] said to be the same as that of [illegible]

[illegible] commenced an [illegible] Wednesday last. It really begins [illegible] would soon be ahead of the [illegible]. We confess that the latter [illegible] ground for alarm. They must wake up if they expect to compete with their rivals!

The Unionist says that a young man named [illegible], fell on the ice the other day at Salem, and [illegible] fract[illegible] his skull. At any rate, he was very seriously hurt. A son of [illegible] also fell on the ice about the same time, and broke one of his arms in two places.

The Sentinel says that the litigation so long pending between the Applegate Bros. and Peter [illegible], as to the title to the Siskiyou Mountain Wagon Road, has been settled by a compromise between the parties. The Applegates have now a [illegible] title to the road.

The editor of the State Rights Democrat proposes to emigrate to the Sandwich Islands or the [illegible] Pole, in case we carry the State election. [illegible] it is for the chivs to hunt their abiding place among the inferior races, remarks the Sentinel.

The Roseburg Ensign says that on Monday of last week, Milton H. Williams, one of the old settlers of Umpqua valley, died at the age of seventy-five years. He was a native of Kentucky, and came to Oregon in 1853.

Last week J. H. Lotrie, of Douglas county, while skinning a deer, cut the main artery of his arm, and bled until quite exhausted, before surgical aid could be obtained.

Snow in the Umpqua valley was about one foot deep on the 12th inst.

Spirit of the State Press.

In an article on the advent of the New Year and the responsibility which it brings upon us, the Roseburg Ensign speaks of the coming political events of 1868, and in reference thereto, energetically says:

Who will be our standard bearer, chosen in peace and prosperity, to declare our principles to the nations of the world? Shall we select some one who, when the "Star Spangled Banner" was trampled under unhallowed feet, stood by, mocking in derision? Shall he be a man who had no sacrifice to make when the very Continent shook under the reverberations of artillery duels between the assailants and defenders of his Government? Or, shall we choose one who threw himself into the breach and despised the danger of death amid expiring tens of thousands, to strike nobly for loyalty and for right; to break a lance with the hydra-headed monster of rebellion, and hurl him quivering from his fiery steed, no more to aim his venomed missiles at the nation's heart? Every true and patriotic citizen will know his duty in 1868 as he did in 1861, and knowing, will have the courage to perform it.

The State Journal is out with another vigorous article in favor of the Branch Railroad to the Humboldt. We copy portions of its article:

We have been and are in favor of the Branch plan, because we are in favor of a railroad up the Willamette valley, and ultimately through the Umpqua and to Ashland, in Jackson county. And it is our opinion that if communication cannot be had from from some part of this aforesaid line, with the Central Pacific Railroad, a railroad will not be built in this valley in the next ten years, and the Umpqua and the Rogue River valleys will not see one running through them for the next twenty years.

The route of the Columbia alone cannot build a city at Portland no matter how many promises are made. This route without being balanced by a road up the Willamette and the Humboldt branch would kill Portland just as sure as the changing of lines of travel has exercised a power to create or destroy cities in all ages. We are not opposed to the route down the valley of the Columbia river. That route should be established. But what sense or justice is there in locking up all parts to favor one line, or to create a monopoly? Because that route should be established, is that a reason why all others should not be? The very disposition to oppose other routes in order to advantage one is evidence of a desire to monopolize.

Let our Representatives look at the maps of our country. They will see that the Columbia route opens but little of Oregon. To be sure that little ought to be opened. But the advocates of that line would make you believe that that northeastern part was all of Oregon. That does not open the country drained by the Willamette river, a region of about fourteen thousand square miles—nor southeastern Oregon which this Humboldt branch would pass through the middle of. And this would also create a channel to tap southern Oregon into. This you can see at a glance. This would make Portland a natural centre of a vast railroad system, and make the future interest of this region identical and harmonious. This branch would diffuse the the advantages, and not confine them to a single line or a single company; and the national advantages are as great for this branch from Humboldt this way, as from that point, on the Central Pacific towards San Francisco. We are for the greatest advantage to the greatest number.

The Jacksonville Sentinel has an article on railroads from which we make the following extracts:

We have repeatedly shown that a railroad was the prime want of this section of the country. Always in speaking of it we have urged immediate and decisive action, feeling confident that the whole influence of this part of the State would be necessary to accomplish so gigantic a scheme. We are soon to have another meeting on the subject and we earnestly hope that the counsels of our people will be guided by temperate judgment, and all conflicting interests united for the furtherance of the main object. In our opinion, there is nothing to be gained by bombastic and bullying resolutions on paper—very gratifying to the vanity of those who draft them—but very harmless indeed, when directed against the capitalists whose aid it is absolutely necessary to secure. Those whose money is to build the proposed road care very little for our wants. They only ask to know whether the investment will be remunerative, and how much of the stock our own people are willing to subscribe for; and it is very probable that a company with sufficient means to put this enterprise through will be shrewd enough to ascertain the facts before laying a single rail. The feasibility of the route, the resources of the State south of the Calapooia mountains, its population, its arable acres, and the pecuniary interest to be taken in the road by ourselves, are all incidents that should be included in a report to those of whom we ask assistance.

Speaking of the Democratic plan to cancel the debt by emissions of paper, the Record says:

The plan of paying off the war debt with currency is devised, because Democracy over-estimates the ignorance and cupidity of the American people and is the existence of these qualities in its own party. It looks like a payment, but the issue of two thousand million more of currency, when there is already enough afloat to answer the business wants of the country, would produce inflation, panic and ruin. The result would be, what Democracy desires, that currency would decrease in value as much as it is increased in bulk, and the national debt would disappear in a state of universal ruin. The Union-loving North has [illegible] of the specious promises of Democracy before. The plan is only fit for scoundrels to plot, and for demagogues to propose. The people will have none of it to buy [illegible] from taxation by an act which would make our nation infamous forever. Democracy has miscalculated, as usual, and we must form a close front to resist its sophistries and complete its ruin.

Some [illegible] years ago we published a prophetic declaration made by the late Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts, that if the "Prohibitory Liquor Law were enforced in Massachusetts, the intelligent people of that State would indignantly erase it from the statute book in less than a year." This prophecy we [illegible] had been signally fulfilled. The Corvallis Gazette, in the superabundance of its zeal, catches this up, and unappeasably inquires:

Does the OREGONIAN intend by this "extract" from a [illegible] of Gov. Andrew, to endorse the position taken by him on the license question, and join with the enemies of temperance and morality in an exultant shout over what it is pleased to denominate the 'temperance party overwhelmed with defeat?'

We have [illegible] endeavored on two or three occasions to persuade the Gazette to believe that [illegible] a person may doubt the efficacy of prohibitory legislation, such person is not necessarily an "enemy of temperance and morality." It is the opinion of multitudes of good men that prohibition never did and never can diminish intemperance. Furthermore, there are many good and moral men who never tested a drop of ardent spirits in their lives, who believe in allowing other men the right to drink what they please. We do not believe that the prohibitionists are the true friends of the temperance cause; therefore we do not regard their defeat as a blow against temperance principles, and have no tears to shed when they experience such reverses as they have met in Massachusetts.

The following is the leading article of the Eugene City Guard, of the 4th inst. We insert it here as a sample of the elevated style of Democratic journalism:

Just as were were going to press, by an unavoidable accident, a page was pied, in consequence of which we are compelled to double some advertisements. We will make it all right next week. We had a synopsis of the proceedings of the Gizzard-foot-clean-shirt-Congressional-kid-glove-Grant-vs-Union-free-nigger-pow wow. Unfortunately for the admirers of the California bummer who now owns the "decency," our complimentary notices of him cannot appear this week.

The Courier is quite as profound as usual. In its last issue it is a good deal perplexed about the sex of Congress, as witness the following:

If Congress may regulate the question of suffrage, from whence does she derive it? Certainly not from the Constitution. If from her "inherent powers," why can she not draw from the same source the right to annul or abolish a State at will, make it over again, excluding from the voting privilege all except their partisans, and thus render a State but a tool of a majority of Congress, and the legitimate plunder of political montebanks.

The Courier also makes the inquiry, "What is a State;" and she has two columns of the most lucid writing on the subject which we have seen since the famous ethnological articles were given to an admiring world. We would be glad to quote at length from her article; but the want of space forbids.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JANUARY 16.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the Senate Trumbull, from the Judiciary Committee, reported in favor of the indefinite postponement of the bill to regulate fees and costs in the U. S. district courts. Adopted.

Conness introduced a resolution permitting Minister Burlingame to receive a civil appointment from the Emperor of China. Refused.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the House bill to prevent further contraction of the currency was taken up, and discussed in committee of the whole. Sherman's amendment was inserted, that the amount of such notes now existing shall not be further reduced till Congress otherwise provides.

Conkling offered an amendment adding the words "or increased," which was debated at great length.

After the expiration of the morning hour the House resumed the consideration of the Reconstruction bill. Wood addressed the House on the bill, and denounced other measures just adopted by Congress, such as the bill to degrade Gen. Hancock and the re-instatement of Stanton, and the Supreme Court bill. He declared the present bill a monstrosity, and the most infamous of the many infamous measures of this infamous Congress. Bingham made a question of order on the last expression. The Speaker sustained the question of order, and said that Wood had an opportunity to explain. Wood said he had no explanation to give. The Speaker said that Wood could only proceed by consent, and then put the question whether Wood should be allowed to proceed. The House emphatically refused permission. Dawes then offered a resolution of censure, directing the Speaker to pronounce censure at the bar of the House. It was adopted by a strict party vote. The Speaker then proceeded to pronounce censure upon Wood, who then asked permission to proceed with his remarks. The House again refused.

Beck argued against the bill. Farnsworth spoke in its support. In the course of his remarks, speaking of Hancock, he said that whoever commended himself to the affection of the rebel element, also commended himself to his rebel brethren on this floor. Morgan made a point of order against the last words. The Speaker decided the words not proper to be used in reference to members of this House. After an attempt to impeach Farnsworth by the Democratic members, he withdrew the words "on this floor," and was allowed to proceed. After further discussion, the House adjourned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Much interest is felt respecting the President's action in the case of Stanton. The President's friends say that Johnson had an understanding with Grant that the latter would give him notice before retiring from the war office. Grant, however, retired immediately on receiving notice of the official action of the Senate. The President himself says there is no authority for the statement that he will refuse to recognize Stanton.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Washington specials say that a personal friend of Stanton states that it is Stanton's intention to send the President his resignation shortly.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Nothing new has transpired in relation to the reinstatement of Stanton.

Venezuela dates to December 31st via Cuba, state that the plot to assassinate President Falcon has failed. Falcon assures his consent that a free election shall be held for his successor.

St. Thomas advices state that the Haytien Government needs funds to put down the rebellion, and will make liberal offers for the sale of Samana.

Official advices from Crete state that the Christians reject all overtures of Turkey. The news from Greece is cheering.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—The Republican convention has nominated H. C. Warmouth for Governor, Dumas (colored) for Lieutenant Governor, and Boves for Secretary of State.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Specials reiterate the statement that the President says that Grant promised to notify him before leaving the war office. One correspondent says that Grant admitted this in the presence of Gen. Sherman.

Gen. McClernand will be appointed Minister to Mexico.

The Stanton Case.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Washington specials say that Secretary McCulloch has forbidden the heads of Bureaus of the treasury department to recognize Stanton as Secretary of War until his status in that department is settled. It is said that similar orders have been issued to the other executive departments. It is also said that the President intends to issue a proclamation forbidding officers of the army to hold any communication with Stanton as Secretary of War, and not to obey any orders that he may issue. The impeachment of Johnson is strongly talked of by the House should he refuse to recognize Stanton. Congress never exhibited such a settled determination to stand squarely to the position assumed.

The Senate last night passed the anti-contraction resolution.

Outrage in Tennessee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Letters from Tullahoma, Tenn., say revenue officers, in attempting to seize an illicit still, were attacked and shot. Other outrages were perpetrated.

History of the Invasion of Mexico Forthcoming.

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—Padre Fisher has arrived clandestinely from Mexico. He is going to Austria where he will publish important documents relative to the history of the Mexican Empire, including correspondence between Napoleon and Maximilian.

Miscellaneous.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The House has passed to a third reading the bill to repeal the State constabulary act.

HARTFORD, (CONN.) Jan. 15.—The Republican State Convention has nominated Marshall Jewett for Governor.

ATLANTA, Jan. 14.—It is reliably stated that there are no funds in the State treasury of Georgia, all having been removed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Tribune special says the draft of the new whisky tax bill will be completed in a few days. The indications are that the tax will be greatly reduced.

A Times' special says that Senator Trumbull will appear on behalf of the military authorities in the McArdle case, which involves the reconstruction laws.

PARKESBURG, Jan. 15.—A collision of two gravel trains on the Alleghany Valley road, occurred on Tuesday. Twenty laborers were severely injured, and two or three are reported dead.

European News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The steamer Baltimore from Liverpool has arrived.

Reports from Paris show the relations between France and Italy to be very disquieting. It is said the Garibaldians are concentrating at Aquapendente, and Papal reinforcements have been sent to the frontier to repel invasion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A dispatch from London says additional steamers are being hurried to Bombay to transport more troops. The Government learns that more force will be necessary to relieve the Abyssinian captives.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

FLORENCE, Jan. 15.—A large class of the Catholic population who have heretofore refused to recognize Victor Emanuel's Government by voting, have resolved to take an active part in the next parliamentary election.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Levant Herald, published at Constantinople, has an able editorial in regard to the influence of the United States on the Eastern question. It says that influence has not been weakened by the Congressional resolutions of sympathy with the Cretans, or by its late good offices with [illegible]. It says that confidence in the United States authorities was never higher than now.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Patrie says the governments of France and Prussia have agreed together on the Roman question so far as to restore relations between the King of Italy and the States of the Church, to act on the status created by the September convention. The Patrie hopes Italy will not oppose any obstacle to the accomplishment of this purpose.

The appearance of the pamphlet being prepared by Prince Napoleon on the foreign relations and domestic affairs of France, is anxiously awaited.

VIENNA, Jan. 15.—The frigate Novara being signalled from Trieste, the Emperor and members of the Royal family left for that city to receive the remains of Maximilian.

LISBON, Jan. 15.—The King has dissolved the Lower Chamber of the Cortes and issued orders for elections for a new Chamber, to be called to meet at the end of April.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The trial of Capt. Windsor, of the ship Intrepid, is still on. The testimony for the prosecution, so far, is very strong. As Capt. Windsor left the Court this morning, he was hissed and groaned at by a mob of sailors and others.

John Henry has obtained a judgment of $5,000 against Silas Wilcox for slander.

The following are the rates of passage to New York by the Sacramento, which sails Saturday: First cabin, outside room, $151 50; inside room, $76; second cabin, $40 50; steerage, $35.

By the opposition steamer Oregonian, which sails for Panama on the 25th inst., the first cabin fares to New York have been fixed at $90 and $70.

The London and San Francisco Bank sue Ervin Davis to recover $16,219 on a promissory note.

The Mechanics' State Council met last evening. Letters were read from Hon. J. Conness and Hon. S. Baxtell, pledging themselves in favor of the national eight-hour labor. The Council adjourned until Wednesday.

Chas. W. Crocker, Esq., of the Morning Call, leaves Sunday for China and Japan, where he will act as resident correspondent of the New York Herald and some of the San Francisco papers.

Mr. Robitschesk, of the Eisner tragedy, has waived an examination in the Police Court and let the matter go directly to the Grand Jury.

This morning a one story frame dwelling and contents were damaged by fire. The building is situated on the corner of Tork and Larkin streets. Loss about $800.

California Legislature.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—In the Senate yesterday, Lawrence, from the select committee on the Hutchings and Lamon claims, reported back the memorial to Congress, referred to yesterday, with the proper amendments making it conform to the bill. Adopted, and ordered engrossed.

Hagar, from a majority of the San Francisco delegation, reported in favor of the passage of Assembly bill No. 98, an act to provide for taking private lands for public uses.

The same member introduced an act to exempt from taxation certain property belonging to the United States in San Francisco and ceding the jurisdiction of the same to the United States. The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate took up the special order providing for the various joint committees to compile and arrange the laws of the State.

The Senate current resolution, providing for the appointment of a joint committee of three from each House to codify the revenue laws of the State, was also adopted.

The Assembly concurrent resolution, in relation to the State Capitol, was taken up.

Johnson offered a long substitute, inquiring into certain facts touching the security of Sacramento and other matters. The substitute was adopted.

Lawrence moved an amendment to the substitute, that a special committee of three from the Senate and four from the Assembly, be appointed for the purpose and report before February 1st, which was adopted by a vote of 12 to 9.

House. A concurrent resolution was introduced by Cureton to adjourn sine die February 15th, which was laid on the table.

Coggins moved that an act to repeal an act for the encouragement of silk culture in California, approved April 2, 1866, be made the special order for January 23d. Subsequently this motion was withdrawn and the bill was made the special order for January 17th.

An act to provide for obtaining correct statements of financial condition of several counties of the State, was read, considered, engrossed and passed.

The Unionist promises to commence the publication of a daily shortly, "when the season shall permit better opportunities to obtain news and circulation." We shall be glad to greet the Daily Unionist.

The ministers of Corvallis have formed an association for mutual improvement, to meet on Tuesday evening of each week. The Scriptures are read, and theological questions discussed at each meeting.

Hon. J. C. Cartwright of Salem, has been appointed U. S. District Attorney for Oregon. Mr. Cartwright is now State Senator for Marion county. He will resign this office, and remove to Portland.

The Jacksonville papers say that a breakwater must be constructed to protect the town against the ravages of Jackson creek, which is rapidly encroaching on many property-holders.

Another Lodge of Odd Fellows was organized at Salem on Tuesday evening. It is called Olive Lodge. The Order has three Lodges in Salem, numbering over 150 members.

It is said that one out of every three young women in Kentucky elopes for the sake of marrying. It has long been the romantic fashion of the State, and ordinary weddings, without a sensation, are considered unworthy of a girl of spirit.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. [illegible] pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink) painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. Couch's Lake.—The steam fire engines belonging to Multnomah Co. No. 2 and Protection Co. No. 4, were taken down to Couch's lake yesterday forenoon, for the purpose of flooding the ice. No. 2 was stationed at the gas works, while No. 4 was taken to the Boneyard and both were immediately put to work and kept at it till nearly night. It was soon found that a considerable part of the water thrown on the ice, ran through the cracks, and [illegible] by the sewer at the lower end of the lake, while the balance of it spread but slowly on account of the light snow which drifted about with the water, forming into little banks and, as the water would [illegible], making ridges in the surface. Not more than three or four acres were covered by the work of both engines. In places where the ice had sunk, the water was two or three inches deep, while many places were not [illegible] at all. The average depth of water on that portion of the ice flooded was about one inch. The attempt was but little more than a failure and will probably not be [illegible]. The skating public, however, are gratified with the public spirit of those firemen who volunteered their time and [illegible], and there are none but are willing to "take the will for the deed."

Job and Job Printing.—It is related that at a printers' festival not long ago, a distinguished member of the [illegible] gravely in support of the theory that the art of printing was known in the days of Job, and [illegible] from that noted martyr to bed [illegible], the following words in proof: "Oh, that my words were now written! Oh that they were printed in a book, and were graven with an iron pen, with lead, in a rock forever!" From this [illegible], he drew the conclusion that old Job [illegible] the whole business of printing, engraving, [illegible], came the [illegible] Job Printing." Very likely. The more we read of [illegible] the more we are [illegible] that he must have been, first a printer and then an editor; none other [illegible] so many ills, and none other [illegible] them without "repenin'."

Auction Sale of Real Estate.—Yesterday Mr. A. B. [illegible] of the [illegible] of J. T. McDon, real estate as follows: Lot numbered one in block twenty-four, [illegible] and Second [illegible], to D. [illegible], for $5,000; lot two in same block, facing Second street, without improvements, to Dr. McKinnell, for $2,350; south half of lot three in block seventy-three, on the levee and facing [illegible], between [illegible] to W. W. Page, for $1,350; north half of lot four in same block, to D. [illegible], for $1,200; lot one in [illegible] corner [illegible] and Montgomery streets, for $230.

[illegible] Fast.—The steamers Cascade, Julia, Rescue and [illegible] McNear are all [illegible] fast in the [illegible] ice at the O. S. N. Co.'s Boneyard. The ice is about six inches thick and is from three to four rods wide, entirely encompassing the steamers. In [illegible] of a thaw, some of these days, when the steamers would be in danger of [illegible] along with the ice, Captain Wm. Smith, is [illegible] a section of the ice with strong cables, [illegible]. This [illegible] of ice will be kept cut away from the surrounding ice, above and below, so that when the river [illegible] up the [illegible] will be in no [illegible], either [illegible] of floating away.

[illegible] Central [illegible] met in this city [illegible] and appointed the 19th of March next as the [illegible] Convention. [illegible] As in the case of the Union State Central Com. [illegible] had a letting the day [illegible], and greater [illegible] of the [illegible] were kept away by [illegible] the ice blockade. The vote of [illegible] one delegate [illegible] seventy-five Democratic votes for Governor [illegible], and one for each [illegible] of fifty or [illegible].

[illegible].—We learn that Prof. Cardinell, at the [illegible] of his pupils, will give a [illegible] at [illegible]. We had the pleasure of [illegible] one of these [illegible] last Saturday evening, and was surprised not only at the number of pupils in attendance, but at the [illegible] they are already attaining. The Prof. [illegible] has a large and rapidly increasing class, and devoting, as he does, his whole time and energies to the improvement of his pupils, he cannot fail to win [illegible].

Safe for the Auditor's Office.—Workmen were engaged in hoisting the safe [illegible] from the ground floor to the Auditor's office. It is large and heavy—weighing about [illegible]. [illegible] was used in the [illegible] a hole in the floor of [illegible] o'clock last evening it [illegible] in the Auditor's [illegible].

[illegible] the last three days, we have had daily mail [illegible] overland, between this city and Vancouver. The mail carrier [illegible] but too late to [illegible] and reached this city. He will start early this morning [illegible] on the ice at Vancouver to [illegible]. [illegible] up to last evening [illegible] with [illegible]. Probably, to-day the ice will [illegible].

Letters Lost.—The following letters are [illegible] the post office at this city, for want of [illegible]: Mary E. Enwright, [illegible], Lexington, California; [illegible], San Francisco; W. R. Carter, Corvallis, Oregon; [illegible], Victoria; Miss [illegible]. The writers [illegible] call at the office and [illegible].

[illegible] night the [illegible] of the river as far as can be seen [illegible] way, was [illegible] over with ice. In a [illegible] of places [illegible], were out from side to side and [illegible] were piled [illegible] the day between this city and East Portland. It is not unlikely that the ice will be strong enough to-day to bear [illegible] "or any other man."

[illegible] left Portland last Monday [illegible] in company with Dr. [illegible] says that [illegible] at noon on Tuesday [illegible] on the road; [illegible] procured another and then lost a [illegible] there over night [illegible].

[illegible] Within the last few days several [illegible] have been sent from this city to the [illegible] with a broken leg, and one or two others [illegible]. Of this [illegible] are now located [illegible] in this city, with a fair [illegible] that there will be [illegible] have been [illegible] to the [illegible].

[illegible] and Mail Departure.—Mr. [illegible], with Wells, Fargo & Co.'s [illegible], Mr. [illegible] with the U. S. [illegible], [illegible] with the military [illegible] started at 1 o'clock [illegible] for the Dalles. The latter [illegible] is to go to Camp Harney [illegible]. They expect to reach the Dalles Saturday evening.

Opening of the Theatre.—Joe Delavan says he will not be ready to open the theatre [illegible] than next Monday [illegible] and possibly not so soon. Until the skating [illegible] it will be [illegible] while to open it at all. A splendid thaw is what is first [illegible] by the [illegible] in door am[illegible].

The [illegible].—The [illegible] of the 16th says, "The [illegible] from Corvallis [illegible] early this morning, on her way to Oregon City." The Enterprise is the only [illegible] we have [illegible], which is not [illegible] fast in the ice.

[illegible] to Start a Newspaper.—The Marysville Appeal states that John Bigler and [illegible] Fisher—the latter late of this city—will soon start a new paper at Sacramento, [illegible] of the State Capital Reporter. Fisher is Printer for the State.

[illegible].—A race on [illegible], a keg of lager beer the wager, was run, yesterday, at East Portland between Wm. Daly and [illegible], men whose [illegible] we did [illegible]. Daly won the "[illegible]" and treated the [illegible].

[illegible].—We are requested by Mr. [illegible] to state that in consequence of the illness of Mr. W. P. Doland, the [illegible] by the Philharmonic [illegible], appointed for this evening, has been postponed.

[illegible] Sale.—Messrs. [illegible] at sell a large stock of dry goods, groceries, etc., to-day at 10 o'clock.

[illegible] Religious Notice.—There will be religious [illegible] for the Lutherans in the Methodist Church every [illegible] afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. Myers will [illegible] the service. Lutherans of every nationality are invited to attend.

[illegible] and [illegible].—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" will be found invaluable to those exposed to sudden changes, affording prompt relief in cases of Coughs, [illegible], etc. For Public Speakers and Singers, and those who over-tax the voice, they are useful in relieving an Irritated Throat, and will render articulation easy. As there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine.

Capitol, Olympia, Dec. 11th, 1867.

[illegible], Portland—Sir: I have been in the habit of using the "[illegible] Royal Remedy" in my family, who [illegible] at Wallula, Walla Walla county, W. T. I am now at Olympia, attending the present session of the Legislature, and the climate is so different from that of Walla Walla county that I have taken cold, and I have endeavored to purchase some of the medicine here but was unable to do so. Please send a bottle up immediately by mail. I have used nothing else in my family and cannot get along without it. Yours truly,

J. M. VANSYCKLE.

While some men break their Noses, Smash their Heads, Play Base Ball, &c., on the Ice, others are quietly seated before a good fire. Now, the question arises, which is the most comfortable? Of course both parties are equally comfortable, provided that the "Skaters" and those that travel out of doors have provided themselves with a good Overcoat, Beaver Suit, or such other warm clothing as KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have for sale.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the HEALTH AND HAPPINESS, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

Established upwards of 18 years, prepared by H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist, 594 Broadway, New York, and 104 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. jan4d1m

DR. C. W. COOL,

DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 24, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it [illegible] alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in those far off places by its merits.

TAKE NO MORE UNPLEASANT AND UNSAFE REMEDIES for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.—Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

TEETH EXTRACTED

By Dr. Richardson's Apparatus, [illegible] Improved by Dr. Koehler, with Ether Spray.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,

DENTIST.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.

Extracting Teeth by Dr. Richardson's apparatus, with Ether Spray, is local in its application, the tooth and surrounding parts only becoming insensible to pain. Those suffering from bad teeth can now have them removed free from pain and without the effects of inhaling chloroform, ether or nitrous oxide [illegible].

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for those who receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

THE FOLLOWING ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED:—DIVIDENDS ANNUALLY. ALL POLICIES NON-FORFEITABLE, AFTER ONE PAYMENT. LOANS MADE ON POLICIES. CREDIT GIVEN FOR PART OF THE PREMIUM IF DESIRED. EXPENSES LESS THAN ANY CASH COMPANY. POLICIES INCONTESTIBLE. PROMPT PAYMENT OF LOSSES.

Important New Feature in Dividends and Modes of Insurance!

The following are examples of the operations of the last dividend:

POLICIES ISSUED IN 1862—ONLY FOUR YEARS AGO.

Age.	Amount insured.	Premium paid.	Added to policy.	Total amount.
40	$10,000	$1,280	$3,572	$13,572
35	8,000	1,002	2,648	10,648

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of Wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious R[illegible]. Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels; Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare [illegible] and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is speedily invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless cathartic, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the [illegible] and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produces effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

The Sleigh Ride.

Sweet Susie Brown, my pretty one!
I'm sure you must remember—
If not for love, at least for fun—
The sleigh ride in December,
When all the belles and all the beaux,
In spite of frost would go forth,
And squeeze, beneath the buffaloes,
Each other's hands, &c.

How brightly streamed the northern lights
Above the snowy ridges!
How pleasant were the winter nights
Observed from country bridges!
Where "toll" is sought with such address,
'Mid laughter, fun and flattery,
And lovers feel, amid the press,
Each other's hearts, etc.

'Tis very singular and queer,
Of all most mad devices,
Love's fire should burn so bright and clear
On fuel formed of ices!
And yet we know its flames, indeed,
Most brilliantly will glow forth,
When fanned behind a flying steed,
Hid under furs, &c.

I'm sure you mind the village inn,
The supper and the revel;
How, in the general din and din,
Love shot his arrows level,
And don't forget how Henry Kidd
Embraced you in the buttery;
You kissed his lips—you know you did—
And he kissed yours, etc.

And when the forfeits were all paid,
How one old maid resisted,
Until the younger ladies said
A prude they all detested
"Desist!" she cried—the ancient Ann—
Her modesty to show forth,
"I'll never yield to any man
My virgin lips," &c.

The wintry winds, the homeward way,
Blew chilly in our faces,
But underneath our furs we lay
All snugly in our places;
One girl upon the forward seat—
The pretty Nellie Saturlee—
Declared Jack Frost had pinched her feet,
And Billy Frost, etc.

Another, underneath her robes,
(The buffalo's, not her dress,)
Fair Patience, with attendant Job,
Determined to care [illegible],
Sprung up, with angry, blushing face,
Her [illegible] to show forth,
But showed her curls were out of place,
Her [illegible] gone, &c.

And then the parting at the door!
Its tender mutual [illegible]!
Sweet lips, from their abundant store,
Gave to the poor in kisses!
The parting word, the long embrace—
Cupid's most dangerous witchery,
Brought fire to many a joyous face,
But [illegible] hopes, etc.

Dear Susie Brown, save you and I,
Of all that band of merriment,
No other pairs are left to try
Love's last, best experiment;
And when the coming [illegible] are spread,
Our mutual hopes shall glow forth—
May Hymen bless us when we're wed,
Increase our joys, &c.

A [illegible] Tale—An Alleged Haunted House—[illegible] Huge Stories.

The [illegible] (Ill.) Home Journal has the following startling story:

"There is a lonely house situated near what is known as "Upper Crow Creek," in this country, that just now has the unenviable notoriety of being haunted. We suppress the locality, out of regard to the interest of the proprietor, who is anxious to sell it at a sacrifice. It is a [illegible] unpainted two-story structure, standing well away from the road, and where dark deeds could be perpetrated with little risk and is [illegible] "renter's" house. Some time last Spring a family came to the neighborhood and having the adjoining ground, moved into the house. The first night of the arrival was signaled by mysterious noises, etc., proceeding from a [illegible] attended with opening and shutting of doors, etc. The next night was [illegible] than the first, and glimpses were had of a shadowy form passing swiftly into the room [illegible]. They remained a week, keeping their own [illegible] their fears to the [illegible] alone, who bought their [illegible] and [illegible] from all engagements. Two [illegible] tenant arrived and moved [illegible] house, wholly unconscious of its ghostly [illegible]. The first and second nights passed without any disturbance; on the third, while [illegible] were awaken by a [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible], followed by heavy blows, [illegible] then a [illegible] [illegible] came out, passed the [illegible] itself is [illegible] and shut of its own accord, and disappeared in the darkness.

[illegible] was no coward, and his first impression was that robbers were at work; [illegible] and [illegible] to move [illegible]. Several nights passed with more or less [illegible]. His family grew nervous and [illegible] not remain; but he, still believing that [illegible] than spirits produced [illegible] adjoining the small apartment [illegible] which the noises came. Some time between [illegible] the door [illegible], and the same [illegible] making directly for the spot [illegible] stood. It was a fearful moment, but ghost or no ghost, he was not to be [illegible] the [illegible] to pass clean through the [illegible] there, the [illegible] heavy blows and [illegible] a livid human head, dripping [illegible] upon the floor. The house [illegible] day, the [illegible] to carry him to [illegible].

[illegible] carrying a [illegible]. He [illegible] the [illegible] seen just at nightfall going [illegible] of this house, which is [illegible] afterward they [illegible] and took with [illegible] pork, [illegible] of newspapers at this time [illegible] the arrival at Louisville, Ky., of a [illegible], which, exciting suspicion [illegible] was opened and found to [illegible] by whom shipped has [illegible] the [illegible] of the floor shows dark looking [illegible] with a plane, and [illegible] are certain suspicious spots upon the wall. [illegible] the New York Herald of two [illegible] in the column of "personals" had a [illegible] through [illegible] at [illegible] in December last, where [illegible] with very good [illegible]. The [illegible] herein contained was [illegible] of the [illegible] in person, [illegible] natural part, for which he [illegible] fully vouched by the writer.

[illegible] Out for the City.—When [illegible] Mr. Gridley's [illegible] were in readiness for the [illegible], the [illegible] to fitting out her son Gifted. First, she had down from [illegible] wood, [illegible] by the cunning disposition of which, [illegible] initials stood out on the rounded [illegible] in the most conspicuous manner. It was his [illegible] trunk, and the first thing that went into it, as the widow lifted the cover, and the smoothly [illegible] up smell struck an old chord of association, was a single tear-drop. How well she remembered [illegible] when she first unpacked it for her [illegible], and the white shirt bosoms [illegible] that snowy plaits! O dear, dear!

But [illegible] their affections, sweet and sound, out of the old bottles into the new ones off from the lees of the past generation, clear and bright, into the clean vessels just ready to receive it. Gifted Hopkins was his mother's idol, and no wonder. She had not only the common attachment of a parent for him, as her offspring, but [illegible] her race was to be rendered illustrious by his genius, and thought proudly of the time when some future biographer would mention her own humble name, to be held in lasting remembrance as that of the mother of Hopkins.

So she took great pains to equip this brilliant but inexperienced young man with everything he could by any possibility need during his absence. The great trunk filled itself until it bulged with its contents like a boa constrictor who has swallowed his blanket. Best clothes and common clothes, thick clothes and thin clothes, flannels and linen, with handkerchiefs enough to keep the pickpockets busy for a week, with a paper of gingerbread and some lozenges for gastralgia, and "hot-drops," and ruled paper to write letters on, and a little Bible, and a vial with hiera picra, and another with paregoric, and another with "opodeldoc," for sprains and bruises. Gifted went forth equipped for every climate, from the tropic to the pole, and armed against every malady from ague to zoster. He carried also the paternal watch, a solid silver bull's eye, and a large pocket book, tied around with a long tape, and by way of precaution, pinned into his pocket. He talked about having a pistol, in case he were attacked by any of the ruffians who were so numerous in the city, but Mr. Gridley told him, No! he would certainly shoot himself, and he shouldn't think of letting him take a pistol.—Guardian Angel.

Adam Smith says: "The most absurd of all suppositions is the supposition that every successive generation of men has not an equal right to the earth and to all that it possesses."

PROSPECTUS OF THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURCHASED the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mechanical, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintances, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, secured only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have defied every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. E. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are laboring under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the [illegible] responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 251.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

REDINGTON & CO'S
ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER

☞ This valuable preparation, containing, in a highly concentrated form, all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for, while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

Sold by Druggists everywhere, and at wholesale by REDINGTON & CO., Agents for the Pacific Coast, San Francisco. je24d7m4p

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, [illegible] only hope of [illegible] mercury or other [illegible] time, always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are [illegible].

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL

During the seventeen years of the [illegible] of the [illegible] been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world, and the [illegible] the [illegible].

Without Mercury or other Deleterious [illegible]

[illegible]

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those affections without submitting the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, "Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for forty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial way, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, whereon he had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful [illegible].

To CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.
